

BLOMSTEIN advises ADM in litigation before the Fiscal Court of Hamburg

Press Release 10 February 2017

BLOMSTEIN recently advised the ADM Group on an important customs law question regarding a chemical product used for the manufacture of foodstuffs. In a proceeding before the Fiscal Court of Hamburg, the main customs office of Hannover renounced its previous legal position before the oral hearing and fully subscribed to ADM's view. As a consequence, the legal dispute was declared settled.

The BLOMSTEIN team consisted of Roland M. Stein and Sarah Bayer. BLOMSTEIN regularly advises the ADM Group on customs and excise tax law.

BLOMSTEIN is a regulatory and competition law boutique based in Berlin. BLOMSTEIN was founded in 2016 and focuses on public procurement and trade law as well as on antitrust/competition, state aid law and compliance. BLOMSTEIN provides legal support to its international client base in Germany, Europe and worldwide.

For more information, please consult www.blomstein.com.